The Country Paper. The morning papers lay on the seat beside him in the elevated train. He was reading with eagerness a sheet which he had not bought of a news-boy, which had no market reports or stock quotations, and which told him absolutely nothing of the business which an hour later would absorb his keenest attention.

It was the weekly paper, printed in the little town where this prosperous, well dressed New Yorker had een bornand bred. Manya man who has carved his fortune in this city hails the little county paper every week as a welcome messenger. It tells how the crops are flourishing, how the fences are being whitewash-every spring, and perhaps, once in a while there is a paragraph about the dear old mother, who has got into print by entertainig the sewing circle. And the prosperous New Yorker reads it entire, while the metropolitan sheets lie beside him unheeded. - New York Herald. Important Facts.
